A continuation of the Answer to The Scots Presbyterian eloquence, dedicated to the Parliament of Scotland. Being a vindication of the acts of that august assembly, from the clamours and aspersions of the Scots prelatical clergy, in their libels printed in England. With a confutation of Dr. M.—'s postscript, in answer to the former, proving, that it's not the Church of England's interest, to contumacious the Scots outed clergy. As also reflections on Sir Geo. Mackenzey's defence of Charles the Second's government in Scotland. And instances on record of Sir George's subornation against Sir Hugh and Sir George Campbell, and the Laird of Blackwood. (Continued on next card)

The continued cry of the oppressed for justice, being a farther account of the late unjust and cruel proceedings of unreasonable men against the persons and estates of many of the people call'd Quakers, only for their peaceable meetings to worship God. Presented to the serious consideration of the King and both Houses of Parliament. With a postscript of the nature, difference and limits of civil and ecclesiastical authority, and the inconsistency of such severities with both. Recommended, and submitted to the perusal of Caesar's

Dewey, Loring-Daniel; 1791-1967.

Correspondence. (n. p., 1824)

31 p. 12".

Correspondence of Loring D. Dewey and Jean Pierre Boyer, president of Hayti.

English edition, New-York, 1824, t.p. reads: Correspondence relative to the emigration to Hayti, of the free people of colour, in the United States.

Together with the instructions to the agent sent out by President Boyer.

A proposition to promote the emigration of negroes to Hayti was submitted by Dewey to the American colonization society, but the society rejected it. A new society was organized in June, 1824, under the name:

Society for promoting the emigration of free persons of colour to Hayti.

Coryate, Thomas, 1577?-1617.

Three crude veins are presented in this books following (besides the foreword crudities) no less flowing in the body of the books, then the crudities themselves, two of rhoristica and one of poesie. That is to say, a most elegant oration, first written in the Latine tongue by Hermannus Kirchnerus ... Now distilled into English spirit through the Odombian Limbecke. This precedeth the crudities. Another also composed by the author of the former, in praise of trauell of Germanie in particular, sublimed and brought over the helms in the stillorie of the said travelling Thomas: this about the center or nassil

Coton, Pierre, 1564-1626.

The hellish and horrible council, practised and used by the Jesuits, (in their private consultations) when they would have a man to murder a king. According to those damnable instructions, given (by them) to that bloody villain Francis Ravilliacs, who murdered Henry the Fourth, the late French king. Sent to the Queen Regent, in answer of that impudent pamphlet published by Peter Cotton Jesuite, in defence of the Jesuits, and their doctrine; which also is herewith annexed. Translated out of French ... London, Printed for T. B. and
